

NANCY WYNNE TURNS TO NORTHERN RESORTS FOR CHATTY COMMENT

Bar Harbor Is About at Its Height Just Now, With Many Affairs Planned for August—Newport Starts Summer Concerts—Other Matters of Interest

THE desire to work for the Red Cross grows greater, it seems, and all over the country the summer crowds have taken up the work. Quite a great deal has been accomplished during these rainy days, and at Bar Harbor, for instance, during the last few days any number of women have been sewing away, making bandages and furnishing kits for soldiers at home and abroad.

Mrs. John Markoe is an ardent worker at the war relief rooms, and so are Mrs. Gerald Holman and Mrs. Ben Tighman. Mrs. Tighman, by the way, entertained at dinner Monday night, and among her guests were Dr. and Mrs. Bob La Conte and Mrs. Charlie Wright, who is a very intimate friend of the erstwhile Susie Sturges Stewart.

Between showers some persons ventured out on the golf links up there and amid mud and drizzle played vigorously. Among the Philadelphians were Margaret Annah Wright, her father, S. McGarrah Wright, and Whitney Wright. Mrs. Francis King Wainwright and Mrs. Charlie Wright have registered at the Swimming Club and will remain in Bar Harbor through the coming month. The John Lewises, who are now up in New Brunswick, expect to come down by way of Maine and will spend next month in Bar Harbor also.

Newport has started up in real gale, and Monday's record of social doings included two concerts, one in the morning and a second in the afternoon, at the Casino. Countess Glna Mozatto, who has been heard various times at war relief affairs in New York, appeared in Newport for the first time and was an unprecedented success. Our townsman, Mrs. Craig Biddle, entertained at luncheon at the Casino that day. On Saturday the Gifford Cochrans have planned to give a dance at the Newport Golf Club, and the Clarence Dolans will give a dinner before the event. Mrs. Cochrane, it will be remembered, was Mabel Taylor, the younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Madison Taylor, of this city. Both Mabel and her older sister, Edith, married New York men. They were such pretty girls, and though I have not seen them lately, they tell me that the good looks which their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Henry Drayton, has before them, are still with them, so to speak. Edith was very artistic, inheriting her talent from her mother, who is one of our foremost miniature painters and usually has a number of these exquisite products of her brush on exhibition at the Academy.

Down in Hot Springs, Va., Miss Helen Parrish, of this city, together with Miss Gladys Ingalls, has taken charge of a branch of the National Surgical Dressing Committee, whose headquarters is in New York. The members of this new branch are to meet every morning, if you please (that shows how enthusiastic they are), at the Homestead Casino and roll bandages and make compresses for hospitals in Europe. The work was organized by Mrs. Archibald Hopkins, of Washington, who is chairman of the committee for the District of Columbia and who made a plea yesterday morning at the Casino for war relief work. NANCY WYNNE.
